

CRGroup Signs a Premier Channel Partner Agreement with BI4Dynamics

BI4Dynamics strengthens North American footprint by appointing CRGroup as its premier channel partner to bring transformative BI to Microsoft Dynamics users.

TORONTO, ON, CANADA, February 10, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Corporate Renaissance Group (CRGroup), a Quisitive Company (TSXV: QUIS), Microsoft Partner and premier provider of business technology and consulting services, today announced a Channel Partner Agreement with BI4Dynamics, a Microsoft Partner and leading provider of data warehouse and business intelligence for Microsoft® Dynamics™. This agreement grants CRGroup the right to market, sell, and implement BI4Dynamics across Canada, the U.S., and the Caribbean.

BI4Dynamics offers unprecedented plug-and-play data warehouse automation and business intelligence for Microsoft Dynamics enterprise resource planning (ERP) platforms. The solution is disrupting traditional reporting in Dynamics by eliminating the need to contract consultants, Power BI™ experts, and SQL™ developers to centralize data and build reports.

BI4Dynamics supports joining any combination of data sources from both cloud and on-premise systems, including Dynamics NAV 2009 (and other versions), Dynamics 365 Business Central, Dynamics AX2009/2012R2/R3, and Dynamics 365 Finance, and Supply Chain Management. Its open data warehouse architecture also allows for easy integration with any other data source.

Using an intelligent 'wizard' for set-up, BI4Dynamics requires no knowledge of SQL programming to extend the data warehouse. The solution was created to deliver fast and accessible reporting, regardless of Dynamics database size or the number of companies. After launching BI4Dynamics, companies have access to more than 2,000 BI Fields (KPIs) that can be reported on using a library of over 150 out-of-the-box Excel and Power BI dashboards.

"We are very excited to bring BI4Dynamics into the North American and Caribbean markets," said Dr. Vijay Jog, Founder of CRGroup and President of Quisitive's Global Business Application Team. "Being a Microsoft Partner specializing in Dynamics ERPs for over 25 years, we know the immense value that BI4Dynamics can provide to Dynamics ERP users who require centralized data and intelligent Excel and Power BI reports, but don't want to deal with complicated SQL code and costly services. This value-priced plug-and-play solution from BI4Dynamics is truly a game-changer and is sure to disrupt the way Dynamics users think of reporting and analytics."

Mladen Gvozdenovic, CEO of BI4Dynamics, said of the partnership, "We are thrilled to partner with the knowledgeable and experienced team from CRGroup to deliver state-of-the-art data warehouse and business intelligence to Microsoft Dynamics customers in North America."

CRGroup is also in the process of developing an extension for BI4Dynamics, which will provide an added level of role-based access and security that is not currently available in Dynamics.
