

LRSV Launching New CBD Wellness Product for People on DailyLifeCBD.com

Link Reservations Inc. (OTC: LRSV) announces the introduction of a new CBD topical cream to its DailyLifeCBD product line.

LONDON, UK, UNITED KINGDOM, February 11, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Breaking CBD stock news from Investorideas.com Newswire - Link Reservations Inc. (OTC: LRSV), a provider of wellness and cannabidiol (CBD) products for both humans and pets, announces the introduction of a new CBD topical cream to its DailyLifeCBD product line. The new product, developed to soothe and relieve irritated and dry skin, will be sold through the Company's DailyLifeCBD website and be targeted to people, as opposed to pets.

Manufactured by its US supplier, the CBD topical cream is crafted with all-natural ingredients, including hemp, Bulgarian lavender and frankincense, and targets skin dryness and irritation. Free from parabens, dyes, and artificial fragrances, the wellness cream is compatible with all skin types.

“When we expanded into offering CBD products for people it was paramount we found a supplier that met our high standards and had the ability to scale with our anticipated growth. As with our LinkResPet division that offers high quality hemp derived CBD products for pets, we strive to provide the best CBD wellness products for pets and now people”, commented Rene Lauritsen, Link Reservations/LinkResPet CEO. “Starting with a base product such as a CBD infused topical cream is a great first step as we venture in this new market. We look forward to placing orders in the coming months, and expanding our product offering as we identify new opportunities for growth. And, as we continue expanding our customer base and our network of suppliers such as this new partnership, we look forward to a robust 2021” he added. We are currently working to offer other wellness products for people using compounds aside from CBD. We hope to update shareholders & the investment community accordingly.
