About Red Carnation Hotels

The Red Carnation Hotel Collection is a much-loved group of extraordinary boutique properties, spanning across three continents; the realisation of the Tollman family's passion for service excellence and generous hospitality.

Comprising of 20 individually unique hotels in the UK, Ireland, Channel Islands, USA, Switzerland, and Africa, each hotel is a landmark of history and tradition: from the magnificent Ashford Castle in Ireland to The Milestone in London, an historic mansion hotel opposite Kensington Palace, and the truly iconic Oyster Box in South Africa.

The story began in 1952 when Beatrice caught the eye of a distinguished hotelier named Stanley, who was known for wearing a red carnation in his lapel. They shared their first dinner together at the famous Oyster Box Hotel, where Bea tried an oyster for the first time. They were to be married two years later with Stanley promising to one day buy the hotel for his new wife, and in 2006, he did just that. The Oyster Box was the first hotel in what was to become a collection built on Mrs. Tollman's vision for service excellence and a passion for generous hospitality. Today, The Oyster Box is recognised as the very best hotel in Africa and the love story is still at the heart of Red Carnation Hotels' ever-growing collection of hotels across the world. From the chefs and sommeliers to reception staff and concierge, each team member exudes passion and enthusiasm to support the philosophy: "no request is too large, no detail too small". Individual hotels are unique and characterful, whilst sharing the founding values that define the family-owned and run business. The Red Carnation Collection is a family business in the truest sense. Red Carnation Hotels is one of the TTC Family of Brands.
