

Applied Basic Science - Begin your pet CBD education and learning with our following webinar

As the leader in the science behind pet CBD, ABSC is proud to host a monthly webinar series.

WASHINGTON, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, UNITED STATES, February 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Every month we take an hour to dive into a CBD-related topic, bringing in different speakers to help educate people on a variety of aspects about CBD products and usage. These webinars are free and will be recorded for you to view if you cannot attend the live event.

Dr. Stephanie McGrath, Colorado

This month's webinar will be a continuation of Best Buds: CBD Trials for our Furry Friends. There's so much to talk about when it comes to pet CBD research and clinical trials, we split the topic into two sessions to make the information more manageable.

Dr. McGrath will continue diving into information on what clinical trials have been done, what the results help us learn about CBD use in our pets, and what the future looks like for pet CBD research. Join us Monday, February 22nd at 4 PM MST to learn more about CBD clinical trials for pets. If you have questions on pet CBD clinical trials, please submit them HERE.
