Object Edge announces new partnership with Unbx, a best-in-class, revenue-focused search solution for product discovery.

WALNUT CREEK, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, February 23, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Object Edge, an award-winning eCommerce consultancy, announces a new partnership with Unbx, an AI-powered Commerce Search and product discovery solution. Object Edge now provides customers with revenue-focused solutions for driving onsite search and product discovery.

Unbx is the fastest-growing eCommerce product discovery platform on the market, with over 1300+ retailers in their portfolio across 40+ countries. By applying advanced data sciences, Unbx helps eCommerce businesses optimize user interactions, drive conversions, and increase sales volume. Unbx's AI-powered tech-stack empowers eCommerce stores to create a contextual, relevant, and personalized shopping experience.

Kelly Rader, VP of Digital Experience at Object Edge says, "We are excited to launch this partnership and offer a best-in-class, revenue-focused search solution to our clients and partners. As the customer expectations become more sophisticated, this tool uniquely allows brands to differentiate and compete with exceptional product discovery."

The digital landscape is changing at a rapid pace. The need for eCommerce businesses to grab shoppers' attention is higher today than ever before. The shopper today is expecting a personalized shopping experience each time they visit an online store. We at Unbx are building technology to meet both ends of the spectrum and shape the future of Commerce search", says Prashant Kumar CTO and Co-founder at Unbx. He adds "With this partnership with Object Edge, we aim to drive digital transformation together for eCommerce stores across the globe."
