

Wildfire Energy teams up with One Tree Planted to help businesses combat climate change

Aiming for 1,000 trees planted, Wildfire Energy is helping to reduce CO2 levels.

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA, ESSEX, UNITED KINGDOM, February 24, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Wildfire Energy UK in partnership with One Tree Planted has pledged to plant ten trees on behalf of any business that signs a new gas or electricity contract through them.

The partnership aims to plant 1,000 trees over the next year and participating businesses will receive a certificate to demonstrate their commitment to tackling the climate crisis.

Below the logo is a grid of logos for various energy providers, including ENGIE, British Gas, e-on, havenpower, CROWN GAS & POWER, TOTAL, SSE, corona energy, edf ENERGY, OPUS energy, ORsted, GAZPROM, Scottish Gas, and SCOTTISHPOWER.

Quiller Hawkins, Wildfire's Commercial Sales Director said: "Sustainability and the environment have always been a high priority for me personally. And whilst Wildfire offer and supply renewable energy tariffs to customers, the 'One Tree Planted' project allows us and our customers to do even more for the environment".

One Tree Planted run reforestation initiatives in 18 countries across four continents. Their efforts aim to reduce the amount of CO2 in the atmosphere while also restoring the forests' natural biodiversity and providing jobs in communities where the projects take place. Customers will be able to determine where their trees are planted and have the option to get involved in reforestation projects.

"It's great to work with Wildfire Energy and make a positive impact by planting trees on behalf of their customers," said Matt Hill, One Tree Planted's Chief Environmental Evangelist. "Every action we take really adds up, and the fact that Wildfire offers renewable energy and other energy-reducing products creates even more long-term benefit for sustainability."

Wildfire Energy is dedicated to helping businesses reduce their carbon footprint and work more sustainably. In addition to supporting their customers in running more energy efficient businesses, a quarter of Wildfire's partners are 100% green energy suppliers. By collaborating with One Tree Planted, they want to make it easy for businesses to do their bit to help the environment.
