

Webinar to explore Pro Tips on How to Plan, Design, Integrate and Monetize Facilities for Esports

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, US, March 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Primeview, a global leader in visualization products, today announced that the company will continue its' series of webinars to address evolving market needs and design requirements amid the covid19 pandemic. The second webinar will feature a live panel of gaming, sports, entertainment, and audio-visual experts to discuss the importance of a holistic design approach with key vendor relationships for the growing Esports market.

WHAT: Esports facilities are not a one size fits all. As an industrial leader in display systems, Primeview will be moderating a panel that consists of design experts from Alpha Video, IVCI, AVISPL, Henderson Engineering, Osports Architecture and Misfits Gaming.

WHEN: March 5th, 2021 at 1:45pm EST via ZOOM (registration in advance required).

WHY ATTEND: with people around the world feeling more excited and engaged in Esports gaming more than ever, it is critical for both existing and new facility designs to evaluate what systems are important to plan for and how can they proactively monetize with advancements in technology. In this webinar, veteran sports entertainment, and audiovisual practitioners, will discuss why it is of critical importance to vendors, customers, and partners to work together to build the facility of the future. From sizing, staff, design flaws, today's challenges, and intelligent systems.
