LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, USA, March 10, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Naqvi Injury Law has awarded its 2021 college scholarship to Yusra Mohamed, a student from Houston who is studying biochemistry at the University of Southern California (USC). Yusra maintained a 5.24 GPA in high school, despite being the primary caregiver for a family member.

“Yusra’s story touched me personally,” said Farhan Naqvi, founder and managing attorney of Naqvi Injury Law. “As someone who had to fight for every bit of success I have earned in my career, I could clearly see her compassion for her loved one driving her even further to pursue her career goals. Our scholarship program isn’t just for those who want to enter the field of law, it’s for those who fight tooth and nail for what they believe is right. Yusra is an inspiring example of our future generation.”

In her essay, Mohamed said that when she became a primary caregiver at 10 years old, she began a journey that not only filled her with empathy and motivation, but informed her academic interests and pursuit of public service.

It is inspiring students like Yusra that let us know there is more to success than money in the bank.”

In addition to her academic successes, Mohamed participated in work with the National Honors Society and the animal non-profit Memorial Hermann Southeast.

“It is inspiring students like Yusra that let us know there is more to success than money in the bank,” said Naqvi. “Compassion, a quest for knowledge and sheer determination can often turn what may have been another sad story into someone who epitomizes the American Dream. On behalf of my family and my firm, we offer Yusra Mohamed our sincerest congratulations.”

Naqvi Injury Law offers a scholarship to post-secondary students in the U.S. who have a minimum 3.0 GPA and a verified LOA (letter of acceptance) or proof of enrollment from a college or trade school institution.
