

Anu Aggarwal narrates her book with Storytel

Her book Anusual is now exclusively available in audio on Storytel!

MUMBAI, MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, March 11, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- After becoming an overnight star with the blockbuster movie Aashiqui, actress Anu Aggarwal faced a near fatal car accident which left her in a coma for 29 days. Her journey to recovery is documented in her memoir "Anusual".

Written in third person, the book will now be available in an audio format. What better than having her narrate her story herself. The book is an open hearted confession and a power dose to believing in oneself. Anu talks about how yoga meditation helped her heal when everybody gave up.

Referring to herself as "that girl", Anu Aggarwal opines "The main reason for me to write the book apart from it being a part of my healing journey, was to reach out to my fans, to those who don't know me, the millennials. Because it is a human story, which has something positive for everybody. I realised it is best when I tell my story myself, it lends the right emotions that I have lived. Narrating the book has been an exciting yet empowering experience, I relieved everything and to be able to read that out for you guys, it has been a treat! "
