AAA Flag & Banner, a full-service graphic solutions company, is proudly celebrating its 50th anniversary.

Though much has changed since 1971, AAA Flag & Banner has remained at the forefront of the large format graphics & signage industries.

In 1971, AAA Flag & Banner opened its doors as a small sign shop in Los Angeles, CA, originally founded by Howard Furst. They focused on providing quality graphics and exceptional customer service to the local community and developed a reputation for making the impossible truly possible. From that experience and through many years of successful growth, the company began a steady expansion across the U.S. Now, with offices in Los Angeles, Houston, Miami, and San Francisco, the company has true nationwide production and installation capabilities.

“What a milestone! Infinite Scale extends our congratulations to AAA Flag and Banner in its 50th year,” said
