

American Fine Arts Celebrates #ISDAY with an Online Exhibition of jd Hansen's Monumental Sculpture

April 24th 2021 is #ISDAY International Sculpture Day.

BURBANK, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, March 13, 2021

/Einpresswire.com/ -- Monumentally scaled artwork is now being imagined and created by artists and sculptors worldwide to satisfy collectors' hunger for monumental works.

Large scaled works are no longer just in the public sphere; they are moving to private, even personal spaces because of the working from home transition that is taking place. Monumental works are now included on mega yachts and in private sculpture parks and serious art lovers are designing homes around their entire collections.

Leading the way in fine art bronze casting and mixed media fabrications is American Fine Arts Foundry in Burbank California—one of the most infamous foundries, fabricators, and art installation specialists of fine art sculpture in California.

AFA honors and celebrates the art of jd Hansen during International Sculpture day #ISDAY with an online exhibition of her work. These works can be scaled to any size using the latest 3D scanning and printing technologies—any existing size can now easily be scaled from pedestal size into monumental works.

American Fine Arts is commanding this new monumental movement and spearheading a “New Bronze Age.”
