The 2-day agenda will bring together expertise from individuals in multiple disciplines in the field and offer a series of presentations through which attendees will gain insights into the key drivers of this ever-growing industry. Hear from Notified Bodies and Industry experts on a wide variety of topics

Interested parties can attend the conference at £999 for vendors and commercial firms and £499 for pharmaceutical and biotechnology firms on <http://www.pain-therapeutics.co.uk/PR3>.

Proudly sponsored by MD Biosciences and Transpharmation, the event will bring together expertise from individuals in multiple disciplines in the field and offer a series of presentations that will provide exclusive insights into the key drivers of this ever-growing industry.

An excerpt of the co-chair's invitation to the conference below:

"Now in its 21st year, we have witnessed significant growth within the Pain Therapeutics field ... With new advancements in therapeutic targets for the development of more effective drugs, delegates stand to gain many valuable insights from this event such as:

- Discovering which innovative new therapies are driving clinical development including Novaremed's work in developing NRD.E1 for diabetic neuropathic pain and Vapogenix's work in developing volatile anaesthetics to treat inflammatory pain
- Examining the best strategies to generate more funding into pain research clinical trials to eliminate the issue of under funding
- Exploring how COVID-19 has changed the experience of clinical trials and presented an opportunity to reform the way we approach data verification, data analysis and data collection
- Understanding the role of biomarkers in evaluating target engagement of new drugs and predicting analgesic efficacy"

Attendees will also be able to gain from SMi's virtual conference platform. This will include access to live and on demand speaker content, ability to network with all the event attendees and, hosting and joining meetings and socials with built in Zoom functionality.

Sponsors will exhibit with the virtual conference platform, offering a meet up service, schedule meetings, read their articles/documents and what sponsor videos.

As Europe's leading pain therapeutics conference, which will analyse the latest developments in the field of pain drug development, this is a must-attend for those wanting to learn how the industry is working to overcome the challenges of opioid base treatment.
