The bamboo comes from managed farms far away from the Pandas' natural environment and, being a grass, bamboo does not need to be pulled up and then replaced like you'd expect a tree to be plus, as it's one of the fastest-growing plants in the world, bamboo can keep on giving copious amounts of pulp to turn into a product that will meet our day-to-day expectations without destroying the planet.

Every day we see the increasing effects of global warming on our planet. Deforestation is a massive contributor to the increase in carbon emissions. With trees being harvested for such things as toilet paper, kitchen rolls, and other consumable products the knock-on effect is alarmingly clear to us all.

Tiboo is looking to change this by offering an alternative to traditional tree pulp products. In only a short space of time, the use of toilet paper around the world has increased significantly, and its part of our society today. Tiboo® does not use paper pulp from trees, they use pure bamboo instead which is one of the world's fastest-growing plants regrowing fully within two years. Bamboo toilet tissue is luxurious, anti-bacterial, naturally hypoallergenic, and kind to your skin.

By using Tiboo® Pure Bamboo toilet paper and kitchen rolls, consumers are helping to preserve the rainforests for future generations to enjoy.
