

Fearless Films Announces Launch of New Website

Building an online sharing community for film aficionados

TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA, March 25, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fearless Films, Inc. ("Company") (OTC: FERL) announces launch of its new web site fearless.film ("website"). Fearless Films has launched its new website, fearless.film as part of its overall strategy to develop the marketing and distribution arms of the Company.

While the Company continues to build its library of properties through both development and acquisition, the Company will be developed to become a platform for distribution, allowing Fearless to have 100% control over its revenues.

The website is expected to have the ability to directly stream or download films and other media from the website. In its initial stages, the available content will come from the Fearless library; a future version of the website will allow independent producers to upload and distribute their media on the fearless.film platform, with the Company retaining only a small portion of the revenues.

Also in the planning stage is the integration the fearless.film with other recently acquired websites that will create a focussed social platform for film aficionados, who will be able to meet and share their film interests. A mobile app will be part of the offering.

Victor Altomare, CEO of Fearless Films, said "we are watching developments in the social media and streaming media spaces carefully, and have come realize that we need to have full control over the distribution of our media properties. At the same time, we also see a need for a platform for film consumers to interact with each other, without the nuisances of the general social media platforms. Our new website, fearless.film is meant to be both recognisable and memorable. "
