TOP LINEN SERVICE FOR COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES IN MASSACHUSETTS PREPARES STUDENTS FOR A SAFE RETURN

Here is the background on this release. Higher learning institutions may be preparing to welcome students back as the pandemic subsides. To do so, they must meet new guidelines to ensure individual health and safety. Some college departments — like campus labs and hospitals — are particularly vulnerable to the threat of disease. Delivery of crisp, clean linens and uniforms for medical and scientific environments like these could be vital to a successful relaunch. In anticipation of this need, Crown Linen announces an update to its page about linen service for colleges and universities in Massachusetts.
