Business and complex tax return preparation services are the heart of our San Francisco-based CPA firm."

"Business and complex tax return preparation services are the heart of our San Francisco-based CPA firm," explained Chun Wong, Managing Partner at Safe Harbor LLP. " He continued, "We find many businesses want a 'one stop' solution wherein we can do their bookkeeping, advise on their multistate and/or international tax issues, and complete their business and even personal tax returns at

Interested persons can visit the newly updated page on bookkeeping services at <https://www.safeharborcpa.com/book-keeping-financial-accounting/>. After reading that page, the next best step is to reach out for a consultation on potential tax advisory services, including bookkeeping. While the focus is on any business in San Francisco, those that have multi-state (<https://www.safeharborcpa.com/multistate-tax/>) and/or international tax exposure (<https://www.safeharborcpa.com/international-tax/>) are strongly encouraged to reach out for a consultation. A 'one stop shop' solution means that the company can help not only with the nuts-and-bolts of bookkeeping but also with complex international and multistate issues. For these reasons, more and more San Francisco businesses are turning to the accounting firm as a best-in-class tax advisory for California-based businesses.

BOOKKEEPING AND TAX PREPARATION

Here is background on this release. First, good bookkeeping is the foundation of good business accounting. By engaging with a best-in-class San Francisco bookkeeper, a business can set the foundation for easy tax preparation including the best way to minimize tax liabilities.
