CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, April 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Chicago's beloved and iconic Chicago French Market has been nominated for the title of the Best Public Market by USA Today's 10Best panel.

Founded in 2009 to bring a European-inspired market to the city while supporting the local food movement, Chicago French Market is known for its broad selection of vendors selling fresh ingredients, grab-and-go meals and artisan foods from around the globe.

The French Market was co-founded and managed by The Bensidoun Family who also runs markets in France including 41 Markets in The Chicago Sister City of Paris.

“

We are honored to be nominated alongside so many terrific markets. We have worked diligently to bring to Chicago an amazing group of locally-owned, entrepreneurial-driven businesses.”

The Chicago French Market was nominated along with 19 other markets by experts and contributors. All nominated markets occupy landmark buildings.

“We are honored to be nominated alongside so many terrific markets,” says Leslie Cahill, market operations director. “We have worked diligently to bring to Chicago an amazing group of locally-owned, entrepreneurial-driven businesses.

We are excited to be open for both indoor and outdoor dining and have recently launched online ordering for delivery and pickup.

Guests from near and far will be pleased to know that the French Market has installed an air purification system to assure that our vendors, employees and visitors are safe.

We are excited to welcome Barangaroos Aussie Pies, new to the market in April.

The Chicago French Market currently has the following restaurants open with many more emerging from hibernation over the next few months.
