USA, April 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- This is the 2nd event in The Real Resilient Tour, hosted by High-Performance Realtor, producer, speaker, business coach, and event founder Kim Hayden.

"The summit" is designed to use collaboration and lived experience from established women real estate professionals to inspire agents to reach their full potential and succeed in meeting their goals both professionally and personally," says Hayden.

This year's event focuses on helping women to achieve their financial goals. "Earning an income in real estate is achievable with the right planning and dedication. All of the speakers for this event are top professionals who had to overcome different levels of adversity to reach success. Their success, through resilience, is an inspiration for others to succeed."
