HOUSTON, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, April 5, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Raven, the leader in standalone document scanners, is excited to announce the release of Raven Desktop, a seamless all-in-one scanning application for Windows PC and Mac computers.

Raven Desktop works with Windows and Mac Computers

Raven Desktop works with all Raven Scanner models and connects to scanners via a USB or wireless connection. Raven Desktop allows users to scan directly to folders on their computer, mapped network drives, email or cloud destinations. “We wanted to provide a computer-based application that provides an intuitive and easy-to-use interface that customers have really enjoyed on our scanner touchscreen application” said Raven CEO, Stefan Diasti.

Raven Desktop is free and works on Windows PC as well as MacOS with a single installation of the application and all required drivers to connect to any Raven Scanner. Automatic updates provide access to the latest features and functionality. The application includes workflows functionality, allowing for customized quick scanning workflows of pre-configured scan settings, file naming conventions and destinations. Raven Desktop includes AI-powered OCR for fully searchable PDF documents, as well as a built-in editor for making changes before saving the scanned document.
