"I feel I am on top of the world because I can make whatever choice I want - unchained to opinion or judgements. I paint whatever I want - whether others like it or not. The challenge is having my hand holding the brush and interpreting what my imagination is projecting into the void. This journey to me is as important as the final product.

The feeling of my hand holding the brush when it touches the surface I selected to paint and my mind enters the zone and trust what the hand does... and there we are... the medium, the surface and my imagination unleashed."
