

WATERPARK INDUSTRY MEETS UP IN POLIN VIRTUAL SUMMIT

DILOVASI, KOCAELI, TURKEY, April 9, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Polin Waterparks continues its webinar series focused on sharing the latest developments, innovations, products, and projects since September 2020.

The COVID-19 pandemic is having a profound effect on the lives of millions of people around the world. Recently imposed restrictions on daily life have forced us to quickly adopt different ways of working, learning, and connecting with each other. The spread of the coronavirus affects trade fairs and exhibitions worldwide, which are the places that the attraction industry meets. Despite the challenges, Polin is staying positive and maintaining a continually optimistic outlook of hope and strength for the team, for its clients, and for the industry.

Thanks to Polin's international structure, organized locally across the globe, the company is in a pivotal position of understanding the dynamics of all the different cultures with which it works. This ability helps Polin better serve its partners and clients. Now that parks and entertainment venues are reopening, it's more important than ever to communicate. To help with that need, Polin launched the Polin Virtual Summit last fall as an online communications platform. The webinar series is aimed at helping the industry stay connected while its members work from home. Thanks to the online event sessions, industry participants have found an opportunity to share new products, projects, and developments with clients, partners, and their global network. This effort continues on a monthly schedule.

In 2021, the Polin Virtual Summit promises to address a wide range of topics relevant to projects
