/EINPresswire.com/ -- Just in time for the summer season, the iconic AAA Five Diamond and Forbes Triple Five-Star Ocean House on the scenic Rhode Island shore will unveil the next wave of its renowned seasonal culinary pop-up series with the introduction of the enchanting summer Sipping Terrace.

Guests can enjoy the new Sipping Terrace at the Triple Five Star Ocean House in Scenic Watch Hill Rhode Island

In partnership with distinguished gin distiller Sipsmith, London's first copper distillery for nearly 200 years, the Sipping Terrace will feature epicurean delights and Sipsmith cocktails for afternoon tea and dinner parties of up to six people, allowing for intimate socially distanced soirées.

The new Sipping Terrace will delight guests' senses while providing a private and memorable al fresco dining experience with the service and creativity for which Ocean House is known.”

Antonia Korosec, General Manager of Ocean House

Reminiscent of a wistful afternoon in the English countryside, a collection of greenhouses will be located between lime and lemon trees surrounded by lush greenery with fairy lights strewn above. Located alongside the resort's putting green lawn, the spot is ideal to view Watch Hill's spectacular summer sunsets. Inside each breezy and serene greenhouse, guests will gather around a bistro table set with vibrant fine china and a chic chandelier overhead. Guests can also enjoy the terrace's new garden swing or lounge around the fire pit.

The Sipping Terrace's bespoke beverage menu is designed to delight the senses with classic cocktails and whimsical tipsy tea options. Graceful copper swan stirrers jut from vintage-style glasses in varying silhouettes, holding imaginative concoctions like "Hibiscus are Red," featuring Sipsmith gin, Hibiscus syrup, flowers and soda; and "In the Weeds," featuring gin with house-made tarragon tea, lemon, lime and Yellow Chartreuse. Recently named the "Best Gin to Try Right Now" by Rolling Stone, Sipsmith is a pioneer of the gin revival, with handcrafted small-batch spirits that are incredibly smooth and full of character.

Offering a modern interpretation of traditional tea fare, afternoon tea will feature a selection of savory tea sandwiches accompanied by classic afternoon tea scones served with Devonshire cream, lemon curd and preserves.

For dinner, guests will enjoy a delicious and creative three-course upscale menu including Garden Crudit  with pumpnickel "soil," compressed watermelon and fennel salad with goat cheese, and a flavorful main course including scallops, roasted chicken, garlic escargot and memorable side dishes, served family style. The experience is completed with a beautiful orange shaped mousse with leaf shaped butter cookies.

"Each season, we set a new standard in innovative, experiential dining to bring joy to our overnight and day guests," said Antonia Korosec, General Manager of Ocean House. "The new Sipping Terrace will delight guests' senses while providing a private and memorable al fresco
