The newly elected members are part of an ongoing LTEN mission to enhance communications and involvement of key sponsor organizations.

The LTEN PIP Council was created at the request of the LTEN Board of Directors to support the work of the Board and to ensure the voice of Preferred industry suppliers is part of decision making. The PIP Advisory Council also enhances communication and involvement with valued PIPs and constituents.

The six 2021 members of the PIP Advisory Council were selected by their peer companies to provide input and to ensure LTEN is making the most of partnerships with the supplier community. The new members of the LTEN PIP Advisory Council are:

- Brad Ansley of Richardson Sales Performance
- Mike Esterday of Integrity Solutions
- Sue Iannone of Bull City Blue
- Jessica Knox of Metrix
- Simon Mormen of Atomus
- Ted Power of iCoachFirst

LTEN PIP Board members and Advisory Council PIP members also serve on the PIP Council.

The LTEN Advisory Council works directly with the Board of Directors to help create, design and launch programs and objectives under the Board's guidance. The Advisory Council is made up of primary market members and suppliers.

The three supplier representatives appointed to the LTEN Advisory Council are:

Michael Ballas, Axiom

Pam Marinko, Proficient Learning

Celeste Mosby, Syneos Health

The new members join the PIP members of the LTEN Board include Ian Kelly of Red Nucleus, Shaun McMahon of Illuminate and Michelle O'Connor of CMR Institute. With PIPs serving on the board, advisory council, and PIP Council, LTEN is ensuring supplier partner input is included in program and initiatives decisions.

"LTEN thrives on getting input from members about what's important and necessary for them to do their jobs, and that philosophy extends to our supplier community as well. The more involved and active our supplier partners are, the more LTEN can help support their work and objectives, which in turn enables the suppliers to best support the primary market members." said Dawn Brehm, executive director of LTEN. "Our PIPs are generous and creative with their support of LTEN and its members. The new members of the PIP Advisory Council and the LTEN Advisory Council all will serve as valuable resources for supplier input and involvement in our shared goal of helping members deliver world class learning, value and change."
