Science and International Affairs, a research center that focuses on topics ranging from international security to energy policy. Before that, she was a business reporter for the Boston Globe, where she covered the banking and insurance sectors. Ms. Talcott holds an MBA from MIT Sloan School of Management and received an undergraduate degree from Northwestern University.

On the back of several large institutional mandates and growing demand for the firm’s global investment capabilities, Ninety One North America has added regional and consultant relations specialists and investment professional to better serve clients across the US and Canada.

In addition to the growth of the team in New York and throughout North America, Mr. Anker further commented, “Ninety One is largely known for its Emerging Markets capabilities in equities and fixed income, we also have deep expertise in global equities and offer compelling ESG solutions. We look at the world with an unconventional lens, and we believe it is reflected in the strategies we offer.”

About Ninety One

Ninety One is an independent, active global investment manager dedicated to delivering compelling outcomes for its clients, managing more than $150 billion in AUM as of September 30, 2020. In the Americas, Ninety One offers a range of active investment strategies and solutions spanning equity, fixed income, multi-asset, sustainable and alternatives led by specialist teams that invest across global, emerging and frontier markets.

For more than a decade, the firm has been committed to clients in the US, Canada and Latin America, developing trusted partnerships by delivering local expertise with a global platform.

Established in South Africa in 1991, as Investec Asset Management, the firm started offering domestic investments in an emerging market. In 2020, almost three decades of organic growth later, the firm demerged from Investec Group and became Ninety One. Today the firm offers distinctive active strategies across equities, fixed income, multi-asset and alternatives to institutions, advisors and individual investors around the world.
