bigger sizes of 48" sign stakes are all examples of large packages. Shipments weighing over 100 lbs may be shipped freight at our discretion.

Total number of packages on the order: any order that has more than four or five packages will most likely be sent on a freight line. Orders are sent in as few packages as possible to help reduce cost, but on occasion there are too many items and the order would be cheaper to ship on a freight line.

How fragile the shipment is: items that are prone to damage including glass items will usually be sent on a freight line.

For same-day processing, orders shipping on an LTL carrier must be placed by 11 A.M.
