Careful to include the five elements of Zen cycles being: water, wood, fire, earth, and metal. After six years of careful construction, Chalet Seven is available for the first time. Take in the 200-year-old silver wood adorning the facades and crystal stone pillars adding strength and security. Special frameless windows allow maximum views and the moisture humidity system removes any effects of altitude. styles from renowned London and Swiss Architects. Additional features include: pitched roof overhangs to protect terraces and guests from snow; multiple fireplaces; Onyx bar; morning kitchens with a champagne fridge; outdoor lounges and a fire pit; seven impeccably landscaped gardens featuring ginkgo, white birch, larch, cloud pine, and maple trees—all just two kilometers to Crans-Montana and seven minutes from the gondola, and steps away from five-star restaurants and hotels.

“As a past winning bidder on a property offered by Concierge Auctions, I’m familiar with how their process works and knew that their platform would be the perfect fit for selling my property,” stated Mike Cooper, seller. “One of the things that speaks to me about the way they operate is the option for control—I’m able to put my property on the market and have a definite timeline for the sale. That level of predictability, plus their proven prowess in nearby Swiss markets, makes this a no brainer.”

Chalet Seven is situated in the exclusive hamlet of Plans Mayens above Crans-Montana known as “the High Plateau” renowned for 300 days of sunshine—the highest in Switzerland—and astonishing views of 1,000 mountain peaks, including Mont Blanc and the Matterhorn. At 1,600m in elevation and with more than 140km of wide-open runs to ski or snowboard, Crans-Montana is a winter wonderland. Located on the Plaine Morte Glacier, the area is blessed with year-round snow and boasts one of the skiing’s oldest runs. Steeped in golf history, the 18-hole Crans-sur-Sierre Golf Course hosts the European Masters. Play 18-holes and relish sweeping Alpine views only 3km from your front door.
