

The Casey Feldman Foundation, EndDD.org and OnMyWay Partner to End Distracted Driving

CHARLESTON, SOUTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, April 15, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- OnMyWay, the #1 mobile app that pays its users to drive safely, has announced a partnership with the Casey Feldman Foundation and EndDD.org

EndDD.org is a project of the Casey Feldman Foundation a non-profit organization, that shares OnMyWay's mission to end impaired/distracted driving. The Foundation and EndDD.org were created after the tragic death of 21-year-old Casey Feldman who was killed by a distracted driver in July 2009.

Through their partnership, OnMyWay and the Foundation hope to continue to raise awareness and encourage more people to download OnMyWay in their joint effort to "Save Lives and Prevent Car Crashes."

Distracted driving is responsible for roughly 9 fatalities every day as well as more than 1,000 injuries. The effects of distracted driving are far-reaching not only to families but to their communities as well. It is estimated that economic losses total approximately 46 billion dollars each year.

At the time of this release, OnMyWay has "Saved 152 Lives and Prevented 23,378 Car Crashes."

To honor Casey's memory and to launch their partnership, OnMyWay has featured Casey's story on the "Real People" section of their website, which you can view at
