

Announcing the launch of the Acies Ventures - Revolutio program for entrepreneurs and startups

Launch of a unique program aimed at supporting entrepreneurs/ startups having unique business ideas but face technology, capital and management constraints.

MUMBAI, MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, April 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Acies Ventures has announced the launch of a unique program aimed at supporting entrepreneurs and startups having unique and disruptive business ideas, products and services, but face technology, capital and management constraints. Through the Acies Ventures-Revolutio program, any individual, group or even existing startups can use this program to build or enhance their applications without the hassle of coding, powered by the Revolutio no-code platform developed by Acies TechWorks. They can also get access to capital for funding their business growth through the help of Acies Ventures and also, obtain professional guidance and hand-holding support from the Acies Consulting leaders. Acies Consulting leaders will support them in a variety of ways - ranging from setting up their enterprise, scaling operations by hiring executive management and other professionals, structuring market-entry and business development strategies for positioning their product or service into different marketplaces.

Rahul Murthi, Global Head of Acies Ventures adds, "We are excited to work with new entrepreneurs and startups through this program as we have seen a lot of bright ideas and promising startups failing to succeed often due to challenges in technology development, hiring the right people, partnering with the right investors, timing their entry in marketplaces or even sustaining their revenue streams generated by their products or services..."

He adds, "Over the past year, from our conversations with various budding entrepreneurs and startups, we realized that the common ask is to help them build the right technology stack with less dependency on outsourced technology experts - which is precisely what Revolutio will achieve for them"

Revolutio is a unified no code platform architected to develop applications for the enterprise and for enabling complex compute operations. The platform allows anyone with or without coding experience to build their enterprise-ready applications - covering architecting, data management, process automation, modelling, reporting, visualization and project management capabilities.

Adds Muzammil Patel, Head of Strategy at Acies - "Revolutio bridges the gap for a lot of individuals and businesses that know what is required for the technology-enabled product or service to serve the key need of the marketplace, but never see it become a reality due to lack of technology or coding know-how. With this program, entrepreneurs and startups get access to using this platform to build their application their way"

Access to this program is open to anyone around the globe - interested individuals or startups may send their application by filling the details in the form available here.
