By far the best stock simulator trading game out there today”

Chad M., CMFH Hedge fund Manager

Comish was designed and developed by Jon Sheklow, a New York based stock market and M&A professional who started Opposite Lock Games in an effort to bring the excitement of trading to the masses. He's created a game that allows players to trade in REAL Dow-30 stocks including Apple, McDonald's, Pfizer, Exxon and all others.

All prices are updated in REAL TIME and piped in during NYSE market hours.

In addition to real stock trading the game features many other modes as well including trading for your various clients using their money. You can unlock bigger clients as you progress and they give you more and more funds to work with. But if you lose too much of their money they fire you. So it's all an exhilarating game of risk and reward.

This game is recommended very highly to anyone interested in stocks, stock trading, crypto currency trading, Bitcoin, Ethereum or any other types of investing.
