LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, April 20, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SEPSISS band has pre-released their latest single "You Already Know".

"You Already Know" is a bonus track from the band. The message is simple: uniting and encouraging all ages and nationalities to set our differences aside for healing. "You Already Know" is a heart-pounding spiritual climb designed to re-energize not only fans of metal but also fans of humanity, art, and music.

"You Already Know" was produced by Grammy-nominated mix and master craftsman Glen Robinson. His expertise gives the track's heavy metal rock melody a perfectly polished sound suitable for all listeners. "You Already Know" expresses unifying ideas and people post-COVID to bring back togetherness within the community.

Tackling tough issues Sepsiss reminds listeners of the simplicity of sharing a planet together. Described as "the people's metal" SEPSISS sets the bar delivering a heavy and powerful message for hard rock and metal fans alike.

The SEPSISS band hopes to connect with fans in this adrenaline, action-packed tune by erasing outdated language, concepts, attitudes, and behaviors. Returning to a newer world as the band touches on topics of pressing issues of race, political division, and sex throughout "You Already Know".
