As part of the partnership starting this May, Law will introduce new original art on singulart.com offering to the gallery's database of over 500,000 collectors exclusive access to the artist's latest creations.

The partnership comes as Law is recognized as one of the top 3 best-selling artists from the Asia region on Singulart. “I am so excited to partner with Singulart and I can't wait to share new work with their exclusive network of collectors,” said Law. “It is amazing to see where the art industry is headed online and I'm so glad to be part of it thanks to platforms like Singulart.”

Known for combining both classical and contemporary techniques, traditional and unconventional media in his work, Law has seen much success over the last year and has received global praise for his contemporary pop paintings that blend social commentary and dialogue with art history.

Following the pressures of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, which forced the artist to cancel exhibitions and pull out of art fairs, and other selling related events, he decided to focus his energy on online platforms to share and sell his work with the world. To his satisfaction, Law grossed over $500,000 in 6 months selling his original art, commission artworks, and limited edition prints on platforms such as Instagram, Singulart, and more.

With his newfound online success, the artist and his studio manager - his wife Michelle - now focus heavily on creating online shows, artist talks, virtual exhibitions and other online promotions creating huge interest and online sales from original arts and prints with mostly overseas collectors.

Law's work is extremely popular among collectors from Germany, as well as the United States and France, among others. His work has also been picked up by famous collectors such as contemporary art superstars Mickalene Thomas, Mark Bradford, and Theaster Gates. Previously, the artist was equally selected to create a series of works for the David Lynch Foundation for charity.

Law's next line of dedicated artwork will launch May 2021 and will be exclusively available at singulart.com.
