New Cryotherapy Partnership Redefines Player Care and Advances Performance and Recovery for the Dallas Cowboys

DALLAS, TX, USA, April 22, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- CryoBuilt, the industry leader in cryotherapy recovery technology, today announced a multiyear partnership with the Dallas Cowboys. The Cowboys are leaders in players' health and wellness. The benefits of players' cryo recovery translates to the team's performance on and off the field, both physically and mentally.

The Cowboys adoption of the latest recovery innovations such as cryotherapy speaks to their commitment to greatness through not only optimizing team and player performance, but also extending the players' careers. The Cowboys will incorporate CryoBuilt's EVEREST Cryo chambers in their state-of-the-art training facility at the Star in Frisco, TX as well as the Baylor Scott & White research facilities for player training and recovery. Now, players will have unlimited access to the most cutting-edge cryotherapy and recovery technology.

The same CryoBuilt cryotherapy technology used by the Dallas Cowboys will also be available at several of the team's Cowboy FIT gym locations throughout Texas.”
