

Phobio Receives 2021 Pacesetter Award from Atlanta Business Chronicle

Phobio Ranked #13 in the Top 100 and is the #3 Tech Company on the List

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, April 26, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Phobio, the premier trade-in service for mobile operators and iconic consumer electronics brands, was awarded a 2021 Pacesetter Award by the Atlanta Business Chronicle. The Pacesetter Awards honor the top fastest-growing privately-owned companies in Atlanta. This year's Awards honored 100 companies, with Phobio ranking #13 on the overall list. Phobio is the #3 Tech company on the list. The rankings were announced at a ceremony on April 22.

"We are thrilled to be recognized with a 2021 Pacesetter Award" said Stephen Wakeling, Phobio CEO. "Phobio is one of the largest online trade-in services in North America, and we continue to grow as we add trade-in programs for new products and companies. It is our goal to always provide exceptional, transparent customer service and it is our mission to contribute to an earth-friendly circular economy in which items are resold and reused, extracting the most value from them before recycling."

The Pacesetter Award comes after a year of tremendous growth for Phobio. The company nearly doubled revenue in 2020, as consumers and companies across the country updated and upgraded their devices as a result of changes in the workplace and workforce. That momentum has continued in 2021 as Phobio adds new business and works toward its goal of expanding the industries and products that use its trade-in platforms to offer consumers the opportunity to increase their purchasing power and waste less.

The 26th Annual Pacesetter Awards recognize privately held companies in Atlanta that have shown significant fiscal growth over the past two years.
