

RIA Digital Assets Council & New York Institute of Finance Announce Today's Premiere of Certificate in Blockchain & Digital Assets® Course

GREAT FALLS, VIRGINIA, UNITED STATES, April 30, 2021

/EINPresswire.com/ -- The RIA Digital Assets Council, in partnership with the New York Institute of Finance, is proud to announce today's premiere of the Certificate in Blockchain and Digital Assets® course.

The comprehensive, 11-module online self-study program provides financial advisors fluency in blockchain technology, bitcoin and other digital assets. Advisors will become proficient in key practice management areas including tax, regulatory and compliance issues as well as how to add digital assets to client portfolios and explain this new asset class to clients.

"Investors now expect their financial advisors to give them advice about bitcoin," said Ric Edelman, founder of RIADAC. "The 500 members of the certification program's inaugural class are leaders in this field and will soon be able to demonstrate their expertise in blockchain and digital assets to their clients."

The program provides 13 CE credits and certificants are awarded membership in the Council, granting them exclusive benefits such as member-only educational and networking events, introductions to leaders in the crypto community, direct access to brochures, charts and other content for use with clients.
