SEEBURGER is pleased to announce that Magid Glove & Safety will utilize SEEBURGER Integration as part of its modernization initiatives.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, April 29, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SEEBURGER, global leader in accelerating business processes with business integration solutions, is pleased to announce that Magid Glove & Safety will utilize SEEBURGER Integration as part of its modernization initiatives. SEEBURGER's API connectivity and B2B/EDI capability will help Magid to streamline and standardize API connections to B2B procurement platforms and other business-critical endpoints.

At the core of SEEBURGER Integration is SEEBURGER Business Integration Suite (BIS), which incorporates multiple integration scenarios in the cloud, on-premises and hybrid, to provide seamless flow of information between companies and across ecosystems.

For Magid, a modern integration solution is part of its goals to drive higher revenues and to gain market share.

"When we decided to update our aging EDI infrastructure, we looked for a platform that would provide more options for integration than just EDI," said Bill Mathews, Vice President Information Technology at Magid. "The SEEBURGER platform will allow us to more rapidly onboard our customers with the flexibility to connect via API, EDI, or managed file transfer. It fits our needs perfectly for now and the future."

"SEEBURGER understands that many customers in today's digital marketplace must plan and execute new strategies to digitize, integrate discrete back-end systems and modernize legacy EDI systems," said Brent Tisdale Vice President Digital Transformation Sales, SEEBURGER. "We are excited to work alongside Magid to assist them in meeting their hybrid integration goals."

"We appreciate Magid putting its trust in our solutions," said Axel Haas, Co-CEO, SEEBURGER. "We keep our platform on the cutting edge of integration technology, so that our customers are able to connect, integrate and accelerate their businesses."
