“The size of land alone sets this property above any other in the area and it's not something you will ever find again,” said listing agent, Arthur Sharif. “With the added ability to subdivide the acreage, it really opens up the possibilities for what someone can create on this bespoke property.”

With the Los Altos Golf & Country Club one minute away, and easy access to major technology companies like Apple, Google, Tesla, and more, you can truly live and play your way,” stated Goumas, listing agent.
