Holcomb Kreithen Plastic Surgery & Medspa Acquires CoolSculpting Elite Machines for the Benefit of Patients

Holcomb Kreithen Plastic Surgery & Medspa has acquired CoolSculpting Elite Machines, which is just another way they are trying to advocate for the best interests of their patients. CoolSculpting Elite is the most recent FDA-approved treatment method to remove unwanted fat deposits without surgery. These machines have been specifically designed to remove fat deposits from nine separate areas in the body. These devices will selectively freeze fat cells, destroying them and targeted areas.

Therefore, patients will be able to sculpt and streamline their bodies as they seem fit. CoolSculpting Elite Machines have been designed to accommodate the natural curves of the human body. That way, everyone will remain as comfortable as possible as this treatment process unfolds. By relying on cryolipolysis, troublesome areas will be frozen painlessly, providing patients with access to reliable treatment methods they can combine with diet and exercise.

Holcomb Kreithen Plastic Surgery & Medspa Always Places the Patient First

Holcomb Kreithen Plastic Surgery & Medspa is proud to offer CoolSculpting procedures for the benefit of patients everywhere. There are countless people who have struggled to find success using diet and exercise alone. Now, there are novel treatment options available. The acquisition of CoolSculpting Elite Machines is just proof that Holcomb Kreithen Plastic Surgery always places the needs of the patients first. With this new acquisition, everyone in the local area will have access to the best treatment options in the field.
