NEW YORK , NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 11, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AEGIS Advisory

These senior-level experienced advisors are on point with their service offerings and have the necessary experience to help firms avoid the execution mistakes that are seen all too often."

XL Catlin*

The word "AEGIS" means doing something with the protection, backing, or support of a particular person or organization. In classical art and mythology, AEGIS was an attribute of Zeus and Athena (or their Roman counterparts Jupiter and Minerva) usually represented as a shield.

Strategy & Management Consulting industry veterans and co-founders of AEGIS, Greg Derderian and Don Rogers note, "we have adapted this concept - with the protection, backing, or support of an organization - as a key component to our service model and website design."

We have launched the user-friendly AEGIS website with you – our clients in mind.

With this site we hope to increase our communication with you. We will share industry trends, service frameworks, execution approaches, and operating model modernization journey points of view.

"I have known the AEGIS founding partners (Don and Greg) for over fourteen years. Initially, they were leading the CFO Advisory team during my tenure at EY and subsequently were the lead consultants on the Finance Operating Model program at XL Catlin when I was CFO.

The Target Operating Model framework used, from strategy setting to initiative execution through the delivery of meaningful change, was very effective. They bring the deep finance content knowledge and execution experience required for improvement programs.

These senior-level experienced advisors are on point with their service offerings and have the necessary experience to help firms avoid the execution mistakes that are seen all too often.

They would be an asset to any leadership teams their firm serves”.

Peter Porrino, former CFO of XL Catlin, Global Head of Insurance Industry Services at EY, and Board Member (Audit Committee Chair), AIG
