

American Idol Alum Alex Miller To Open For Hank Jr, Josh Turner & More In August

Debut Single, I'm Over You So Get Over Me, Resonates With Country Fans

NASHVILLE, TN, UNITED STATES, May 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- American Idol catapulted young Alex Miller into the spotlight – and onto larger stages – and in August, the Kentucky traditionalist will open for Hank Jr at the Wisconsin State Fair and Josh Turner at the Kentucky State Fair. These performances are just two of the recently added dates on Miller's ever-growing schedule.

Miller auditioned for American Idol with the sassy "I'm Over You So Get Over Me" and the track is now his just-released debut single. Early reviewers are heaping praise on this captivating up-and-comer's take on love gone wrong:

"Puts Miller's classic Country pipes on full display and further proves he's more than ready to make his long-awaited Grand Ole Opry debut." - Lauren Jo Black, Country Now

"This two-minute slice of retro-sounding Country definitely stands out on the radio!"
- Steve Shettler, KBOE Radio (Oskaloosa, IA)

"He is making classic Country cool again and his debut single is genuine."
- Joe Mathis, AM 1230 WHIR (Danville, KY)

Radio programmers can access the tune via Play MPE and AirplayDirect; fans can purchase the track on all popular music streaming platforms.

Between his appearances on Idol and the news of his single's release, Miller has become a media

. . . just about the Hankiest,
honky tonkiest, retro Country killer I've heard since Don Helms walked this earth.”

ABOUT ALEX

Launched to global audiences during American Idol, Season 19, this Kentucky-born singer/songwriter still finds time to help his Grandpa, G.B., on the family's cattle farm, participate in Future Farmers of America events, and sing at church when he can. Wise beyond his years, he's a class-A cutup and fun-loving charmer; a bonafide torch-carrying champion of traditional Country music with an arresting voice, he's been performing professionally since the age of seven. His career progressed steadily from shows in and around his hometown of Lancaster, Kentucky to larger markets and venues, including the Dolby Theatre, Lucas Oil Stadium, WoodSongs, Renfro Valley, and more. His expressive voice and traditional approach to song - ala early George Strait or mid-career Haggard - brought early success and Alex was building a name for himself as the young newcomer to watch. That slow and steady approach ended with his AI audition and, while he tapped out of the show as a Top 50 finalist, he is more focused on his music than ever before. With his debut single, "I'm Over You So Get Over Me," already a fan favorite and receiving terrific response at radio, he's well on his way.
