Rashad Richey. U.S. Senator Jon Ossoff and Killer Mike are among the scheduled guests. In the show Dr. Richey will provide insightful commentary on the top news stories of the day, interview politicians and newsmakers, and debate conservative-leaning guests. The addition of 'Indisputable with Dr. Rashad Richey' on TYT marks a year of expansion for the network as it aims to bring on new voices who have a shared interest in driving positive change by delivering authentic political and news commentary.

About his new show on TYT, Dr. Richey said, "I've been a fan of TYT for years. Their commitment to truth and fighting for social equity is simply unmatched. It's an honor to become part of the on-air team and continue the legacy of fact-based, no spin broadcasting that moves the needle for progressive policies. Cenk Uygur created something really special with this network and it's exciting to be part of it."

Most recently, Dr. Richey was recognized by the Georgia Greater Black Chamber of Commerce as Media Personality of the Year. He was also nominated for an Emmy Award for his television news coverage of a small Georgia town still dealing with the very real effects of racism and systemic segregation.

TYT founder and host of The Young Turks Cenk Uygur said, "Dr. Richey is a powerhouse. He's unafraid to speak the truth and engage in spirited debates with conservative personalities. Dr. Richey will be a great addition to our growing network of strong progressive voices."

"Dr. Rashad Richey's authentic, brilliant and forthright commentary, and ability to respectfully flame his debate participants has made Dr. Richey quickly emerge as a TYT audience favorite. I'm thrilled that Dr. Richey has joined TYT in this collaborative partnership," shared TYT's Head of Programming Judith Benezra.

'Indisputable with Dr. Rashad Richey' will premiere on TYT via the network's digital platforms and will be viewable on YouTube, Facebook and Twitch. The 90 minute program will air Monday through Friday.
