

Eric Painter of Texas: Taking the Lead in Software Sales

SUGAR LAND, TX, UNITED STATES, May 17, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Eric Painter of Texas was actually not born in Texas but in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1991. He had two loving parents. Eric Painter is proud to be from Cleveland, although he no longer resides there. He also has two younger brothers, as well as a large extended family who is very close. His mother has eight brothers and one sister, with all of them having several children. Because of this, he was able to grow up very close to all of his cousins and has great memories of all of the time that they spent together in his childhood.

After he graduated from high school, Eric Painter went to the Franciscan University of Steubenville to earn his bachelor's degree in theology. While he was in college, he studied in Europe for half a year, ending up spending time in 15 different nations. He enjoyed this wonderful opportunity to experience other cultures, architecture, and food. His favorite country to visit was Greece, particularly the Santorini region. After he graduated from college, he spent quite a bit of time working and teaching for a nonprofit organization for six years. He did this, and then he moved into his current career within the tech industry and software sales.

In his current occupation, Eric Painter assists human resources professionals in the streamlining and digitizing of their processes by giving the modern software that will allow them to focus on people instead of paperwork. His hope is to continue to build his career in the SaaS industry since he is very passionate about using technology to simplify processes.

He also has passions outside of his career, including music, coffee, baseball, and traveling. One of his favorite pastimes is going and seeing live music, particularly if it is Americana or folk. He has been a huge baseball fan for his entire life, having many great memories of going to Cleveland Indians games with his father. He still makes sure not to miss games during the season. Additionally, he loves dogs and grew up with golden retrievers. He now has a dog of his own, named Jiggs.

Eric Painter of Texas is very proud of everything he has done in order to shift his career. He acknowledges that it took a lot of networking, learning, training, contemplating, and mental strength. Additionally, he is happy that he has a solid group of friends that surround him. Many of these people are still in his life after he met them 10 years ago as a freshman in college, and they still get together on a weekly basis.

In addition, Eric Painter of Texas offers insights on prevalent issues. He encourages people to get involved in their communities during the pandemic since he believes that helping people can benefit not only the recipients but the person who is doing the helping as well. It can help people re-establish a sense of belonging, as well as decrease the sense of grief, loneliness, and isolation that people are feeling because of losses during this time. Eric Painter also has an interest in spreading the word of his church ministries and helping the homeless.
