Bidsquare Announces New “Auctions Near Me” Website Feature

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, May 19, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Auction bidding platform Bidsquare has released a new website feature for collectors of art, antiques, collectibles, and design. Bidsquare now offers an “Auctions Near Me” tool that allows users to view upcoming sales based on zip code, state, or country. The tool provides information about live auctions, timed sales, and buy-now events.

“We are excited for users to use this tool to make finding auctions an even better online experience,” Allis Ghim, the President and CEO of Bidsquare, told Auction Daily.

To use the tool, visitors can enter their location into a search box. This could include a zip code, state, or city name. Bidsquare then offers a list of upcoming auctions happening nearby, as well as information about auction houses, locations, and how to register to bid. Collectors can also find online-only events using this tool. New auctions are added to the search results daily.

Bidsquare also offers an integrated Google map function to show the location of upcoming events. Users can select a map or satellite view to find city or state-specific auctions.

The new “Auctions Near Me” tool allows collectors to find upcoming events from local auction houses without submitting any personal information. Below the map function, Bidsquare provides drop-down lists of sellers based on state and country. To view upcoming events around each location, website visitors can click on each drop-down option and browse a full list of auction houses, dealers, galleries, and other sellers.
