VANCOUVER, CANADA, May 23, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On Wednesday, the Bitcoin descended under the US$40,000 mark and hauled down the prices of other cryptocurrencies following China's imposing of new reins on cryptocurrencies transactions.

Bitcoin, the biggest and most popular cryptocurrency had already been under stress from a string of tweets from Elon Musk, Tesla Founder but the announcement from China took it to a three-and-a-half-month low at US$38,514.

The cryptocurrency has plunged almost 40 percent from a record high of $64,895. It is also going for its first monthly decline since 2018.

Selling was intensified by China's decision on banning financial institutions and payment companies from providing services related to cryptocurrency transactions. It also cautioned investors against investive crypto trading.
