

ZE PowerGroup Retains the Top Position in 2021 Energy Risk's Software Rankings for the Wildest Supply of Data

ZE Earns the Number 1 Spot in the Wildest Supply of Data Category Yet Again!

RICHMOND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA, May 24, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ZE PowerGroup Inc. (ZE), a global leader in data integration and analytics, has been announced as the winner in the Wildest Supply of Data category by Energy Risk in 2021. The company is jubilant to be consistently recognized and rewarded in the Energy Risk's Rankings for the breadth of its data and the powerful data management platform, ZEMA™.

Currently, ZE is capable of providing around 13,500 reports sourced from more than 1,100 reliable data sources.

The company's data ecosystem, along with the diversity of its sources, remains unparalleled in the energy and commodities industries. Their data management software collects and integrates data from private, public, and in-house sources.

ZE takes pride in working with leading organizations, such as Vortexa, Barchart, Argus Media, General Index, S&P Global Platts, ICIS Heren, Kpler, AccuWeather, The Baltic Exchange, Fenics MD, and many more. They strive to help clients enjoy maximum data value. The company is committed to building new parsers and introducing new data sources every week.

Derek Smith, the Director of Data at ZE PowerGroup, stated, "We are extremely proud of the fact that ZE adds billions of market data records each month. Our efforts are dedicated to ensuring that our clients have all-time access to the latest data. Gathering such a huge amount of data every day is unbelievable."
