

AEGIS Advisory Partners, LLC Announces the release of “Program Risk Control: Avoiding the Transformation Train Wreck”

This thought leadership piece walks readers through how the AEGIS Program Risk Control solution can be leveraged as the guardrails for the modernization journey

NEW YORK , NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, May 24, 2021
 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AEGIS Advisory Partners, LLC (AEGIS), a Strategy and Management Consulting firm, announces the release of their latest thought piece on Program Risk Control: “Avoiding the Transformation Train Wreck.”

The statistics are startling – 70%+ of transformation programs fail (according to research published by McKinsey, Forrester, and other market watchers: see Exhibit 1). The basic question is why, why do so many programs fail to achieve their stated objectives and deliver the benefits expected?

When the rubber meets the road in effecting change, Don and Greg were my “go-to” team for most effectively implementing change.”

This thought leadership piece walks readers through how the AEGIS Program Risk Control solution can be leveraged as the guardrails for the modernization journey – and keeping the proverbial train on the tracks. It delves into:

- How improvement programs are not meeting expectations
- The key failure points

- Why complex programs challenge even experienced organizations
- How Program Risk Control can enable transformation program success

Senior-level project executives do not have the time available to assess project risks, formulate solution alternatives / strategies, and engage in the frequent detailed conversations necessary to resolve the challenges associated with modernization programs – while still having to perform their day jobs.

To avoid the “Transformation Train Wreck,” organizations should invest in a Program Risk Control advisory partner that can act as a shield against the risks associated with these modernization journeys.

“I have been colleagues of Don and Greg for well over a decade. In my role in leading Ernst and Young’s Global Consulting Practice for the Financial Services Sector, they were always my first point of outreach for any of our client’s business issues in the Finance function. They consistently demonstrated industry-leading expertise in the modernization of Finance including operating model strategy and design and how to most effectively use enabling technologies.

When the rubber meets the road in effecting change, Don and Greg were my “go-to” team for most effectively implementing change. Their industry, functional, innovation, and execution know how set them apart from their peers and competitors.

Without exception, I would encourage any organization to consider how to best apply their combined skills.”
