

PLR eBook Queen announces the release of Viddle. Video Hosting by Neil Napier- A new VIDEO HOSTING & MARKETING PLATFORM

Viddle is a new video hosting & marketing platform that allows you to record, host and market videos all on autopilot — all from one dashboard.

JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, UNITED STATES, May 29, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- It is proven that video hosting is extremely important because say you have a great marketing plan. You are sure about its popularity and acceptance among prospects. The magic would work if you decided to publish it through a video rather than state it in simple words.

After uploading and publishing the video on your site, you are flooded with viewer reviews. Gladdened by the impact your video has been able to make within hours of publishing, you start running your gaze through them.

Instead, you are welcomed by negative responses. You have been criticized for posting a video which takes a lot of time to load on mobile devices stops running after being viewable for initial few seconds.

Flickers and freezes intermittently making the watching experience a disastrous one. Never starts playing in the first place and viewers get to see only a stoic black placeholder. Your video has been crippled by its dragging length.

Would you allow your time, efforts, and money invested in preparing the video to go down the drain?

According to crackitt.com "Advantages of availing the services of a video hosting site. An array of fabulous benefits would render your decision to opt for a video hosting medium is a rewarding one."

My friend — Neil Napier — has been cooking up something REALLY cool. Viddle Video hosting.
