/EINPresswire.com/ -- The Jack Abramoff Family Scholarship is pleased to announce that Emery Gore of Knoxville, Tennessee has been awarded its first Academic Excellence Scholarship, in recognition of her creative and thought-provoking essay on the impact of technology on kids today and tomorrow. Emery plans to attend Belmont University in the Fall of 2021.

The Jack Abramoff Family Scholarship was created, in part, to help children whose parents have been lost or impaired due to service to our nation, or have suffered because of unintended parental absence.

Applicants must either currently attend or have been accepted for admission to an accredited college or university in the U.S. While the scholarships will focus at times on children of law enforcement families or of those incarcerated in the justice system, or have otherwise suffered a loss, all students are invited to participate... and win.

"Words can't express how thankful and honored I am to receive The Jack Abramoff Family Scholarship!" said Emery Gore, "Because of your generosity, I will be the first person in my family to attend a 4 year University. Your support of my education is truly life changing."

"In her essay, Emery shows wisdom beyond her years and the potential to be an impactful and vital participant in building our nation. We are privileged to have her participate in our scholarship program." said Jack Abramoff, founder of The Jack Abramoff Family Scholarship.

- 2) If you had go convince a friend that overcoming a setback is more important and, in the end, more rewarding than avoiding that setback from the beginning, how would you do so - and why is that possibly true?

to yourself to ensure a happy and meaningful life?

WHO IS JACK ABRAMOFF

Jack Abramoff is the founder of The Jack Abramoff Family Scholarship, an author, a movie producer, and the newest guest columnist for the Fox Chronicle. The rise and fall of Jack Abramoff, arguably one of the world's most famous lobbyists and former Washington power players, might as well be a major motion picture. In fact, it is. Already two major motion pictures based on Abramoff's story have hit the silver screen.

Dubbed on the cover of Time Magazine as the "Man Who Bought Washington", Abramoff rose to become the nation's most successful and prominent lobbyist, before becoming enmeshed in the most harrowing political scandal since Watergate. Having served 43 months in federal prison, Abramoff has taken a new path, but is still relentless when it comes to helping those less fortunate than himself.

While on top of the political and lobbying world, Jack dedicated countless hours and resources to charitable endeavors, donating the lion's share of his income to established causes (such as the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society), as well as fellow citizens in need, including many schools for challenged students and efforts to support families in need.
