

Attorney Tonya Johannsen to be Featured on Close Up Radio

PLANO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, June 1, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Close Up Radio today announced it will feature attorney Tonya Johannsen in an exclusive one-on-one interview with host Jim Masters on June 3rd at 2pm EDT.

Tonya Johannsen is an attorney with Estes Thorne & Carr with demonstrated success representing contractors, architects and financial institutions in complex transactions, litigation, negotiations, drafting, legal writing, trials and appellate matters related to construction law.

When Johannsen started practicing 35 years ago, there were very few women attorneys in commercial litigation in Texas. She represents financial institutions on complicated cases like fraud, trade practices, consumer issues, construction law. None of those are traditionally female-oriented.

"Please underestimate me!" laughs Johannsen. "The key to success for women in male-dominated fields is knowing yourself, knowing what works for you and being comfortable in your own skin."

Prior to becoming a lawyer, Johannsen was a ninth grade English teacher. A natural born storyteller, Tonya sought a career where she could combine her talent for analysis, research and writing with her ability to explain complicated matters simply.

"I loved being an English teacher," recalls Johannsen. "I found that a lot of the skills that make you a good teacher also make you a good attorney. They both involve communication with people who are not particularly interested in what you want to teach them. So you have to find out a way to be a good storyteller and to simplify difficult concepts into stories that the normal person can relate to."

As an attorney and as a teacher, you have to learn your material forward, backwards and inside out, and you can only learn by asking the client a lot of questions. The challenge for Johannsen is to understand not only the technical aspects, but also how to present the information to the jury in a way the jury can understand it and can hold on to when they go back to deliberate.

"Some lawyers can't communicate the facts in a way that the jury can understand. That's why I'm always relating it back to my ninth grade classroom," says Johannsen. "I'm a very motivated listener and a very motivated learner, but as I explain. We've got to come up with some examples that will be something that they've seen or heard of before that they can relate to, and the examples have to be true to the facts and true to the technology. Whoever tells the best story wins."

Listen to the show on BlogTalkRadio

If you have any questions for our guest, please call (347) 996-3389

For more information, visit www.estesthornecarr.com

Lou Ceparano
Close Up Television & Radio
+1 631-850-3314
email us here
Visit us on social media:
Facebook

This press release can be viewed online at: https://www.einpresswire.com/article/542620671

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2021 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.