Rare GIA-Graded Diamonds & Gemstones Offered by Bid Global International Auctioneers

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, June 2, 2021 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The World's Largest Auction of Rare and Exquisite GIA Graded Diamonds will begin on June 10, 2021, at 6:00 PM EDT.

Presented by Bid Global International Auctioneers, the sale will showcase over 300 loose diamonds, from classic white to rare fancy colors. They are GIA (Gemological Institute of America) certified and come with AGI (Accredited Gemological Institute) New York appraisal certificates. Each diamond has a GIA-certified number laser-inscribed on the girdle to guarantee authenticity.

An emerald-cut white diamond weighing 10.02 carats will be offered in the upcoming auction. It has an appraised value of USD 2,570,100. Very, Very Slightly Included 2 (VVS2) clarity comes extremely close to an Internally Flawless (IF) diamond.

A pear-cut pink diamond that weighs 6.29 carats is a noteworthy lot. A natural diamond with a hint of pink, this piece is appraised at $1,000,000. <https://www.bidsquare.com/online-auctions/bid-global-international-auctioneers-llc/6-29-ct-natural-faint-pink-color-if-type-ii-a-pear-cut-diamond-gia-graded-appraised-value-1-000-000-2248761>

The pink diamond takes almost 100 million years to naturally develop. An Internally Flawless round-cut diamond is also among this auction's key lots. It is a 5.01-carat stone with an appraised value of $1,668,300.

Several radiant-cut diamonds are available in this sale. Among them is a 3.01-carat radiant-cut diamond with VVS2 clarity (appraised value: $139,500). Another offered radiant-cut has an intense yellow color. It weighs 3.17 carats, has SI1 clarity, and is appraised at $116,000. Radiant-cut and emerald-cut diamonds look similar, but
