PLACITAS, NEW MEXICO, UNITED STATES, June 3, 2021

Diamond Tail - Placitas, New Mexico

Diamond Tail

Predock's portfolio is second to none; implementing masterful designs that often feel like a natural extension of the landscape, rooted in a deep, thoughtful respect for the community they inhabit. Diamond Tail is thrilled and honored to have Antoine envision, conceptualize, and curate a masterpiece that blends with the natural beauty of the Placitas landscape.

"The Diamond Tail terrain is an amalgam of New Mexico colors; the terracotta intensity of Jemez Springs, the rich strata of La Bajada Hill, and arching otherworldly landforms arising from the high desert like ancient creatures. All of this inspired our design response for a special home in Diamond Tail; a village-like an aggregation of site adapted parts, all focused relentlessly on the spectacular eastern horizon - the sweeping view across the Diamond Tail Ranch to the Ortiz Mountains and beyond to the plains of America." - Antoine Predock, Architect

Through dedication to the highest standards in planning and design, along with unwavering commitment to highlighting the blissful lifestyle of Placitas, Diamond Tail is honored to have their vision come to fruition through the thoughtful and masterful design by Antoine Predock.
